

Survivors of Quake Flee in Wake of Typhus

By PHIL DOPOULOS

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Survivors of the thousands fled quake-shattered Skopje and the threat of a typhus epidemic today.

As authorities announced the search for more survivors would end after today, the government reported a Yugoslav girl was pulled out of the rubble, still alive 80 hours after she was entombed in Friday's killer earthquake.

Premier Alexander Grlickov of the Macedonian Republic said the number of bodies recovered headed toward the 900 mark and an estimated 700 dead were still buried under rubble.

But Grlickov said it would be assumed that no one else now could be found alive and the government would go ahead on that conviction to raze all the buildings in this ancient Macedonian capital.

Possible epidemics and renewed earthquakes posed a constant problem, he said. There were a few new tremors Sunday but they were slight.

On the fourth day after the cataclysmic quake demolished the city, the stench of cracked sewers, human waste and refuse mingling with the smell of decomposing bodies lay like a stifling blanket over the sun-scorched area. Temperatures were in the 90s.

Each passing hour brought the danger of possible typhus outbreak even closer.

Now, Grlickov said, the main concern was finishing the evacuation of all people not engaged in clearing work or other essential jobs and putting heavy demolition crews to work razing the city.

A new city for the 270,000 population will be built from the ground up on a safer site to be determined after seismological studies are completed, Grlickov said.

More than 70,000 women, children and old people had cleared out of the city by early morning and still they poured out, on foot and in cars, trains and planes.

Some pushed carts filled with a few salvaged belongings. Others pedaled bicycles slowly through the debris.

At government order, evacuation of everyone but men able to help in heavy work was being carried out.

The recovery of a Belgian couple from the rubble Sunday after 55 hours of being buried alive raised some hopes that more living might still be found.

Then rescue of the Yugoslav girl stirred another faint spark of hope.

Premier Grlickov said the work of completely razing the city would take only a few days, starting Tuesday.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Lightning killed a teen-age girl and a golfer in Pennsylvania Sunday.

Rita Weirs, 15, of Jeannette, Pa., was struck while walking across a field at Shawnee State Park near Bedford.

Oliver Decker, 30, of Macungie, Pa., was struck at the Lebanon Valley course near Myerstown. Another golfer in a cart with Decker was only stunned.

More Jailed in New York Racial Strife

NEW YORK (AP)—Police continued to make arrests today at construction sites where pickets sought more jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the construction trades.

Two ministers were among 10 persons arrested at an apartment construction site in Queens and 29 persons were arrested at a hospital site in Brooklyn.

The 29 included one anti-Negro picket whose attempt to crash a picket line caused a brief flurry of violence.

In Criminal Court, seven ministers, a seminarian and a social worker received suspended sentences after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct charges — blocking a cement truck July 22.

The incident took place at a Rutgers housing project on Manhattan's Lower East Side.

The pickets are protesting what they term a lack of job opportunities for Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the city's building trades.

They have been picketing construction sites in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens, and also have set up daily vigils in the offices of Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Picketing at the Downstate Medical Center site in Brooklyn was orderly until a Brooklyn man tried to join the line with two posters demeaning the Negroes' march.

Before he could cross a police barrier, two of the Negro pickets jumped on him, and tore up his signs.

A brief scuffle ensued, but police immediately broke it up and took the man to a nearby precinct house. The man, Anthony Cucco, was charged with disorderly conduct.

Every time a cement truck tried to enter the site of the new Downstate Medical Center, across the street from the Kings County Hospital complex, two pickets sat on the ground and tried to bar the way.

They were whisked away in a police van and charged with disorderly conduct.

Opposition to Bill for Accomodation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida said today in opposing President Kennedy's public accommodations bill that he was testifying for freedom.

"My position is for freedom, which is the antithesis of forced integration or forced segregation," he told the Senate Commerce Committee as it started a fifth and supposedly final week of hearings on the bill.

"It would be a tragic mistake if we tried to purchase equality for minorities, and as part of the price gave up freedom for all," Bryant, a Democrat, said.

Bryant, the fourth Southern governor to testify against the bill, said he did not question the power of the federal government to ban racial discrimination in stores, restaurants, hotels and other private businesses catering to the public.

"The real issue you must resolve," he told the senators, "is between conflicting demands for freedom."

"What is attempted here is to give primacy to the freedom of some to go where they wish and buy what they wish over the freedom of others who own private property."

By restricting a property owner's right to select his customers, he said, the bill would take away part of his rights over the property "and give it to someone else who had never earned it."

Lige Bearden, Retired Blevins Farmer, Dies

Lige Bearden, aged 64, a retired farmer, died Saturday in a local hospital. He lived on Hope Rt. 3.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruth Bearden, a daughter, Mrs. Hilda Vince of Toledo, Ohio; two brothers, Jet and W. S. Atkins, of Hope.

Services will be held at Holly Grove Church at 3 p.m. Monday by the Rev. Harold Brent. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Holly Grove Cemetery.

His death boosted the state's violent death toll to ten persons for the week ended Aug. 28.

Blackwell was the fifth person to die in traffic accidents in Arkansas during the week.

Two persons drowned and three others died miscellaneous violent deaths.

Two of the miscellaneous deaths were the direct result of thunderstorms which swept through Arkansas last Monday.

A trusty at Tucker Prison Farm was killed instantly when struck by lightning as he guarded some prisoners during a storm. A retired Pine Bluff dentist died Thursday after being struck by a falling tree limb Monday.

A third man was electrocuted Wednesday at Pine Bluff when the electric drill he was using shorted out.

Scattered showers roamed over north Arkansas today, promising further relief from drought conditions in the northwest section of the state.

The entire state had scattered showers over the weekend, but amounts were heavier in the north where rain was most needed.

Temperatures dropped into the moderate range under generally cloudy skies. The same conditions were expected to prevail through Tuesday with showers becoming less numerous.

Highs Sunday ranged in the upper 80s and low 90s and Sunday night's lows were in the upper 60s and low 70s. The forecast called for temperatures in the same range today, tonight and Tuesday.

A weak cold front was over Central Missouri today but it was expected to become stationary and fail to penetrate into Arkansas.

The forecast through Saturday calls for temperatures averaging 40 to 44 degrees below the normal highs of 90 in the north and 95 in the south. And normal lows of 60 north to 65 south.

Precipitation during the five-day period was expected to total one-half to one inch in scattered showers.

Rainfall reports in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included: Mammoth Spring 1.67 inches, Berryville 1.35, Omaha 1.22, Blue Mountain Dam 1.20, Clarksville 1.01, Huntsville 1.70, Mountain Home .79, Fayetteville 1.07, Harrison .69, Pine Bluff .65 and Little Rock .03.

State Shows Increase in Population

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The University of Arkansas Bureau of Business and Economic Research estimates that the state's population is up 2.1 per cent since the 1960 census.

The bureau's latest report shows that 28 counties gained population since the census, 45 lost population, and Boone and Clark counties were unchanged.

The overall figure for the state is 1,823,329, an increase of 37,057 from the census figure.

Sebastian County showed the largest increase — 24.8 per cent from 66,685 to 83,221. The reopening of Ft. Chaffee accounted for 9,900 of this.

Pulaski County gained 5.3 per cent, Faulkner 12.6 per cent, Washington 8.6, Sevier 6.7, Benton 6.5, Crittenden 5.3, Jefferson 3.9, Mississippi 5.5 and Craighead 3.8. The largest loss was in Montgomery County — 10.8 per cent. Newton lost 9.5, Stone 8.2, Hot Spring 7.8 and Searcy 7.7.

Only six counties gained population between 1950 and 1960, when the state lost 6.4 per cent of its population.

Spa Chief Wants Re-instatement

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Lt. Joe Crain, newly-named chief of the Hot Springs Police Department, may not get the job, after all.

John Erney, former chief, advised Mayor Dan Wolf and members of the Hot Springs Civil Service Commission by letter that he intends to ask re-instatement.

Police Chief Milford Sandels, who succeeded Erney in 1952, is retiring on pension July 31 for health reasons. Erney went on pension in 1952 for a disability, but said his doctor believes his health to be good enough to resume the position.

If he passes the necessary physical requirements, Erney said, he is entitled to re-instatement.

Harriman Leads Off Drive to Ratify Atom Test Ban; Some Don't Trust Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman led off the drive for ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty today, as a witness before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees and the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee.

The chairman of all three groups were on hand along with most of the members as they went into closed session to hear from the chief U.S. negotiator of the Moscow agreement with Britain and the Soviet Union to ban all but underground tests.

While Harriman and State Department associates carried the burden of policy arguments in the historic study of the pros and cons of the pact, the views of the Joint Chiefs of Staff were expected to bear heavily on the outcome.

Harriman and Secretary of State Dean Rusk face intensive questioning on the agreement and whether there may be in the office any collateral pacts with the Soviet Union, such as a nonaggression declaration proposed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

However, the administration's strong support for the treaty—led by President Kennedy's declaration that it is "an important first step" toward peace—seemed likely to need a bolstering endorsement from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., an administration supporter, brought up the issue in a week-end statement. He said he was concerned over "the apparent single-mindedness of the military mind for assuming that the nation's security can only be protected through a continuation of nuclear testing and the arms race in general."

Williams said "much may depend on the attitude of the military and the Joint Chiefs of Staff" so far as Senate action is concerned.

To become effective, the treaty must be ratified by a two-thirds vote in the Senate.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said if there is military opposition to the treaty the Defense Department will have to be reminded that foreign policy is determined by the civilian branch of the government.

In a statement Sunday, the Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen, urged the Armed Services and Atomic Energy Committees to give the treaty the "closest examination."

Dirksen, uncommitted to the Republican attitude toward the treaty, said the agreement could "dissolve some of the fear and strains but little more."

Khrushchev has not yet recanted his determination to bury us," he said.

"But to mix a metaphor, if this is a first step when does the second shoe drop? Khrushchev already spoke of a non-aggression pact and other matters. The treaty hereafter must be examined against the opaque curtain of the future."

Rusk said Sunday he expects to "explore rather broadly" other East-West issues with the Soviets when he goes to Moscow this week to sign the treaty.

Rusk briefs the House Foreign Affairs Committee today on the agreement.

potential target for epidemic.

New tremors were felt Sunday, but they were slight.

The number of recovered bodies neared 800. But it was believed the final toll would be far higher when the rubble was finally cleared in this city of 270,000 people.

Officials believed 300 Yugoslavs and foreign tourists lay dead beneath the ruins of the four-story Macedonian Hotel, which was the scene Sunday of the remarkable recovery alive of a Belgian couple and a Yugoslav.

The rescue after 55 hours of entombment of Serge Jacquemart, a 35-year-old Belgian biologist, and his wife Suzanne, 32, had sparked hope that more might be saved from the rubble of the hotel.

Rescue workers thought they heard voices of others while pulling the Jacquemarts out, but further digging failed to uncover any more survivors.

Mrs. Jacquemart was the first pulled out. She said weakly that her husband and perhaps others were still alive lower down.

Then Jacquemart's hand thrust up through the shattered stone and his voice cried out in French "Water! water!" A bottle of water was put in his hand, and oxygen tanks were rushed to the opening. Two hours later, he was rescued.

The Jacquemarts were returning from a study tour of the Middle East when the disaster struck early Friday.

"I was just rising from the bed and my wife was sitting opposite me on the edge of her bed," he said. "We planned to get on the road early."

"Suddenly, everything started shaking. I grabbed my wife and held her tightly in my arms. Everything collapsed around us. We fell two stories. Fortunately two wooden beams and the ceiling fell above us forming a small dome which protected us. My legs were pinned under bricks and I was unable to move. My wife, however, was unhurt and could crawl and move about our prison.

"We had given up hopes of being saved. We could see daylight coming through the cracks, in the ruins. We knew approximately how many hours we were in the ruins. We never slept, but closed our eyes for minutes at a time and saw visions."

Mrs. Jacquemart said they spent most of their time discussing the fate of their 6-year-old son should they die.

"It was awful," she continued. "We could hear persons talking and walking about. The miners who rescued us could be heard moving above and we kept shouting for help."

"Our being saved was a miracle after we had given up hope and planned to kill ourselves."

The United States joined other nations in speeding aid to Skopje, the ancient capital of Yugoslav Macedonia and in recent years a major attraction for tourists visiting Yugoslavia.

Twenty-seven U.S. cargo planes completed a massive mercy airlift into Belgrade from West Germany bringing in an Army field hospital with 120 beds, 30 vehicles and 200 men.

Crowds lining the streets of the Communist capital cheered the Americans as they drove in a convoy to Skopje 220 miles southeast of Belgrade. It was the first U.S. military unit to visit Yugoslavia since a small military advisory group left in 1956.

The mobile hospital was to be set up on the outskirts of Skopje. Many evacuees were sent to communities outside the quake zone or flown to distant towns and cities.

Skopje, just four days ago a bustling city, was a mass of ruins and rubble. Many buildings were still standing, but wall cracks and undermined foundations made them a menace.

Heavy wrecking machines moved ponderously about smashing down building after building.

been changed in any way."

De Gaulle said France, which is just on the verge of having its own complete nuclear arsenal, cannot halt its efforts now.

De Gaulle noted that the Moscow agreement does not prevent the three major nuclear powers from continuing the manufacture of these weapons.

He said: "The agreement can be denounced in three months. It changes nothing in the terrible menace which the nuclear weapons of the two great powers hold over the world."

De Gaulle acknowledged that differences exist between Paris and Washington.

But he told a news conference: "Despite the differences which exist, to think that the United States wishes to do wrong to France, or that France wishes harm to the United States, would be a ridiculous absurdity."

State Share of Highway Funds Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' share of the federal highway fund will be more than $1 million greater in fiscal 1965 than it is this year.

Acting Highway Director Ward Goodman said the Highway Department was informed last week that it will receive $40,544,920 in federal funds during the year starting next July 1. The state will get $39,382,202 in the current year.

Federal aid allotments are announced in advance, Goodman said, so the states will have time to plan construction programs before the money becomes available.

The fiscal 1965 allotment includes $6,228,179 for primary road construction, $4,957,585 for secondary roads, $1,319,578 for urban streets and $28,039,568 for the interstate system.

The state puts up only $1 for each $9 of federal interstate money. Other money is matched dollar for dollar.

Goodman said the 1965 allotment for interstate roads is up about $900,000 from the 1964 total of $27,138,475. The primary road fund also will get slightly more, but the allotments for secondary roads and city streets were reduced slightly.

The 1964 total for primary work is $6,097,590, for secondary $4,853,851 and for urban $1,292,286.

Goodman said he did not know why the secondary and urban allotments were reduced. The overall increase is due to an increase in the federal highway funds which is divided among the states on a formula which takes into account area, population and rural road mileage.

Gasgrill

BY ARKLA

Newest
Idea

Outdoor Cooking

A brand new GAS appliance!

An outdoor grill that uses a dependable gas flame, reusable ceramic briquettes... And, best of all, the new Gasgrill by Arkla offers radiant heat that can be controlled, taking the guesswork out of outdoor cooking, broiling and roasting! You can turn the heat up or down!

The GASGRILL gives the same flavor to food you get from charcoal... but with less fuss, bother and expense. Charcoal adds no flavor of its own — it brings radiant heat in direct contact with food. So does the Gasgrill, by heating the ceramic briquettes between the flame and food.

The GASGRILL is a permanent installation for your patio or yard. Close the top, and you get perfect "smoke cooking."

The GASGRILL, made of aluminum, provides even heating, too, with reflected heat from top, bottom and sides... No need for constant turning of foods... and no need for a rotisserie.

Buy a Gasgrill now... in time for summer outdoor cooking fun!

Only $49.95 or... $4.48 Monthly on your gas bill
NO DOWN PAYMENT

Buy the Outdoor Pair...

To introduce the new Gasgrill by Arkla, we're offering a bargain: The Gasgrill AND a Cabildo Gaslite by Arkla—practical companion to outdoor cooking—BOTH for only $71.50... A $79.95 value! You save $8.45!

GASGRILL AND CABILDO GASLITE... BOTH ONLY $71.50
NO DOWN PAYMENT... ONLY $6.44 A MONTH ON YOUR GAS BILL

Prices include installation on the Arkla Gas System, with up to 50 feet of copper tubing free for each Gasgrill and Gaslite.

3-Way Tie in Western Golf Meet

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros, meeting in a 18-hole playoff today for the Western Open golf championships, faced the prospect with varying emotions.

Palmer was a little fidgety because of his putting.

Nicklaus, the cool All-American boy, beamed with confidence after great victories in the Masters and PGA.

National Open winner Boros, the seasoned veteran, seemed past the stage of being bothered by anything while enjoying one of his greatest golfing years at the age of 43.

The playoff winner gets $11,000. Second place is $5,500 and third $3,400.

Par at the Beverly Country Club is 36-35-71 and only eight players broke it for the 72-hole distance.

Boros, sharing fifth place with three others after 54 holes, came out of the pack with a closing 34-33-67 Sunday for 200, four under regulation.

Nicklaus, tied for fifth with two players, pulled up to 280 with a 33-33-66, lowest round of the tournament.

Palmer, who shared the third round lead with Sam Snead, stumbled in with a 37-32-73 after using 35 putts.

The 51-year-old Snead sagged to 40-35-75. He tied Charlie Sifford, the Negro pro who finished with a 69, for fourth place with 282.

Tommy Jacobs with 68, Harold Kneese with 70, and erstwhile leader, Fred Hawkins with 72, were at 283.

The playoff bunches the season's first three money winners. Palmer is tops with $85,955 with five tournament victories. Nicklaus has bagged $75,140 and Boros $65,546.

Palmer has been involved in 15 playoffs in his career, winning 10. In his last five tournaments, including the Western Open, he has been carried into four extra heats. He won the Thunderbird in sudden death with Paul Harey; captured the Cleveland Open by defeating Tommy Aaron in 18 holes, and lost to Boros in the National Open.

Boros has been in four playoffs and was beaten but once. Nicklaus has been in three, winning twice, including a victory over Palmer in the 1962 National Open.

Nicklaus moved into Sunday's deadlock by birdying two of the last three holes on putts of four and eight feet.

Boros could have wrapped it up on the last green but misjudged his 60-yard wedge approach. He left himself a 25-foot birdie putt which he missed.

Palmer never could get going after three-putting the first green for a bogey. His chances of an outright triumph vanished with bogeys on the 69th and 70th holes and he left himself a 20-foot putt on the 72nd that he could not sink for a winning birdie.

DOROTHY DIX

THE WAY OF A GAMBLER
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: My husband is neither a drunkard nor a chaser. He helps around the house when home, loves our children and claims he loves me but—he gambles!

I have been married ten years, borne him three lovely children and worked in offices all but 18 months (due to pregnancy). My husband travels at yearly intervals—has now been gone seven months and will be away four more.

I must stay in one place and work. By watching the budget I am barely able to pay the bills he runs up. He has gambled every cent of our savings—approximately three-quarters of his monthly pay check, borrowed from finance companies and robs Peter to pay Paul in a desperate effort to make good his losses. I only learn the truth after it is too late to stop him.

My parents, his parents and I have done our best to reason with him but to no avail. Even our clergyman and the members of Gamblers Anonymous failed. True, he is remorseful after every binge, tearfully claiming that the children and I are all he has to live for then, whix, bang, he's on the skids again.

It's got so I dread to see him come home and wish to God he would stay away forever which, of course, he won't. Should I keep on hating my head against this stone wall or walk out with the children? I could support myself and them on what I earn, provided he gave me a small amount each month. Please advise —A Gambler's Wife.

Dear Gambler's Wife: Paradoxically, men gamble not because they want to win, but because they want to lose. He cannot tear himself away from a race or game so long as he still has a dollar in his wallet, a check in his check-book. Under such circumstances, profit is impossible.

Psychiatrists generally agree that excessive gambling is like excessive drinking. Subconsciously, gamblers are trying to escape from intolerable pressures of which they may not even be aware.

So where do you fit into this puzzle? Professor Donald Maynard of Boston University gives a clue: He said, "Wives cannot isolate a husband's gambling from the difficulties of marriage as a whole. . . . This is a problem that almost always has two sides." That may be a bitter pill to swallow, but it's one you should know about.

Although self-punishment and inadequate sexual relations are often linked to gambling, a more common cause is rebellion. It may be rebellion against responsibility, against monotony and boredom, against early frustrations, or rebellion against wives. Before you decide to walk out examine yourself critically.

Have you a personality problem which might be contributing to your husband's trouble? Often gamblers attract and are attracted by women with weaknesses as profound as their own. Perhaps there's a worn spot in the fabric of your marriage that needs repairing.

You do not mention whether your husband gambled before you were married. His absences from home must be difficult for both of you as well as the children. How happy is he in his job? His addiction may be a symptom of deep discontent with his work.

Not all gamblers are curable, but many are. Superficial talk about the evils of gambling does no good. He's already painfully aware of them himself. Your only hope is to try to uncover the basic maladjustment expressing itself in this unacceptable, uncontrollable drive. If you succeed in determining the cause (you may need psychiatric help), you can then eradicate it and salvation is possible. This is one of the greatest challenges confronting any wife.

It's one gamble in which you can only win.

Dear Helen: Please print this for the benefit of a neighbor who thinks she has good manners just because she says hello. She's the kind who is always looking for information to carry to others but never the way she heard it. Some of us are on to this garbler and hope others will realize what she's up to before any more damage is done by her long tongue. What satisfaction can these troublemakers possibly gain from such tactics? What can we do about this one? —Wise Neighbors

Dear Wise Neighbors: There's nothing much you can do except what you're already doing—claim up on almost every subject except the weather. Gossipmongers are easy to deal with—just cut off their source of supply. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Are You A Good Neighbor."

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Colorful Shriner Parade Held in Hope on Saturday

—Contax photos, Alex. H. Washburn

One of the great spectacles of America is the Shriner parade. It came to Hope last Saturday, as these pictures testify.

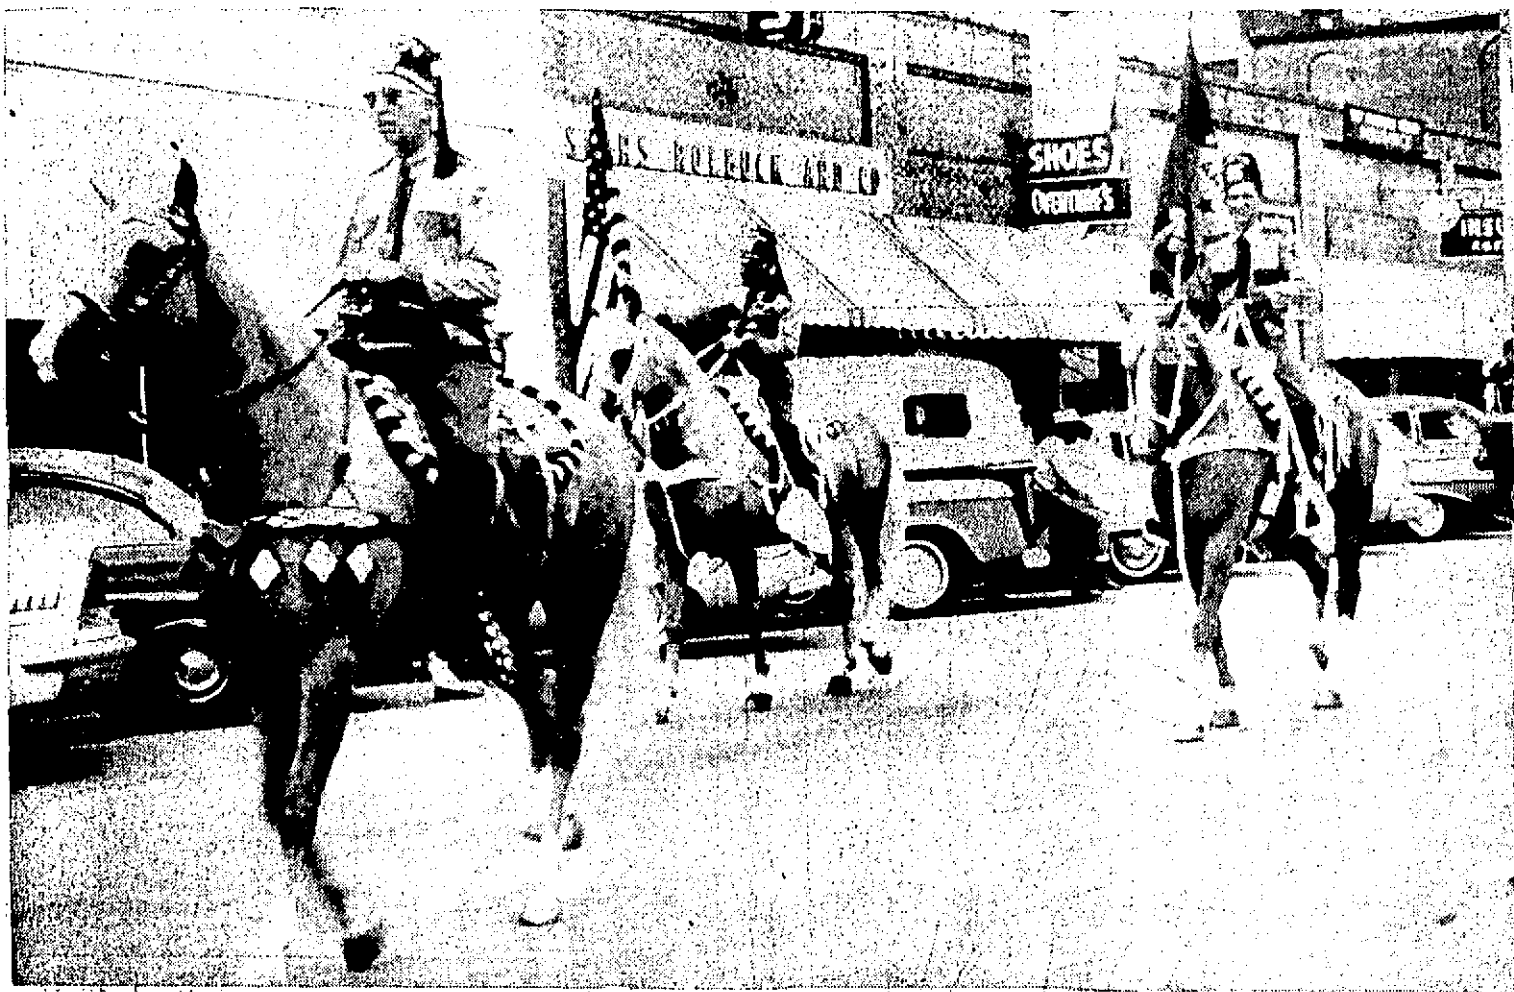

This is what our camera saw from the Third and Main Sts. intersection as the nobles came down South Main:

The color guard, the drum corps, men mounted on magnificent horses, clowns, and dozens of nobles darting in and out of the line of march on white motor scooters.

A float memorialized the Shriners' most famous philanthropy — the 17 Crippled Children's Hospitals.

Fourteen Shriner initiates marched in the parade, but owing to their single-file formation the photographer was unable to make the picture. Here are the new Shrine members:

D. D. Dumas, El Dorado; William Routon, Hope; Vincent Foster, Hope; George Peck, Hope; Garland Medders, Hope; Richard L. Goodwin, Calion; Eldridge Formby, Patmos; Fred A. Ford, El Dorado; Donald Harper Barrow, El Dorado; Dean E. Murphy, Hope; Guy Ross, Nashville; James W. Lyons, El Dorado; William E. Huie, Little Rock; H. T. Williams, Bradley.

Yankees Split; Piersall in Trouble Again

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don't let the halo over Jimmy Piersall's head fool you. He's still the most tempestuous and argumentative player in baseball.

The newest Angel — he joined Los Angeles last Saturday — was back in an American League uniform for only a few hours when he became involved in another of his famous skirmishes with umpires.

This one had a little extra flair: An umpire wound up on the seat of his pants — with Piersall's cap with the halo on top in the dirt beside him. The game ended with Piersall on the outside looking in, a position in which the fiery outfielder may find himself in the future.

Stevens charged in from second base in an effort to calm the raging Piersall but wound up in the dirt near home plate.

"Piersall still had his bat in his hand," Stevens explained. "I grabbed the bat in an effort to calm him. I told him to take it easy if he didn't want to get suspended."

"He let go of the bat and I had nothing to hold on to. As he swung away from me to talk to Kinnaman again, I fell down."

"But I don't blame Piersall for that. He was just mad and I was trying to calm him down."

Piersall said he was angry because Kinnaman accused him of swearing.

"I wasn't swearing," he said. "I haven't sworn to an umpire all season. I was just complaining about the call."

Second baseman Nellie Fox rapped his 2,500th hit and rookie southpaw Gary Peters (10-5) hurled his fourth straight complete game as the second-place White Sox narrowed the Yankees' lead to eight games.

Piersall celebrated his return to the American League on Saturday by cracking two hits as the Angels downed the Boston Red Sox 5-2. Jimmy wasn't in the starting line-up as the Angels beat his old team 5-0 in the first game Sunday.

In the second game, which Los Angeles won 5-4, Jimmy was highly instrumental in the victory. He singled in the third inning, stole second and eventually scored. He singled again in the eighth and scored what proved to be the winning run when Billy Moran's double play grounder went through shortstop Eddie Bresnahan's legs.

Detroit beat Washington 3-2 and 6-4; Chicago's White Sox clipped Baltimore 4-1; the New York Yankees split a doubleheader with Minnesota, winning the second game 3-2 after the Twins won the opener 5-1, and Kansas City and Cleveland divided a twin bill with the Athletics winning the first 3-0 with the Indians taking the second 12-7.

In the ninth inning of the second game, Piersall didn't like a called strike by plate umpire Bill Kinnaman and protested vehemently. Kinnaman ordered him off the field. That only infuriated Piersall all the more.

Stevens charged in from second base in an effort to calm the raging Piersall but wound up in the dirt near home plate.

"Piersall still had his bat in his hand," Stevens explained. "I grabbed the bat in an effort to calm him. I told him to take it easy if he didn't want to get suspended."

New University Grid Brochure

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Four straight bowl teams and the winning way are saluted in the new University of Arkansas football brochure.

The silver and white cover of Bob Cheyne's latest production shows photos of the four Razorback bowl teams, with a Razorback helmet bearing the number worn by the outstanding player of each team.

The numbers, player and bowl team they led are: 24—Jim Moity of El Dorado, 1959 Gator Bowl; 55—Wayne Harris of El Dorado, 1960 Cotton Bowl; 23—Lance Alworth of Brookhaven, Miss., 1961 Sugar Bowl; 10—Billy Moore of Little Rock, 1962 Sugar Bowl.

lead to eight games.

Outfielder Dave Nicholson, who drove in five runs during the White Sox' doubleheader sweep Saturday hit his 16th homer in the first inning.

John Goryl's base-clearing triple and Don Mincher's ninth home run helped Camilo Pascual earn his 11th victory for the Twins.

The Yankees won the nightcap in the ninth on Hector Lopez' two-run single.

Orlando Pena pitched a two-hitter and Norm Siebern drove in two runs in the Athletics' first game shutout triumph. Cleveland came roaring back with 14 hits in the nightcap, scoring seven runs in the sixth inning, the last four on catcher John Romano's grand slam.

Al Kaline of the Tigers cracked a game-winning homer in the opener and started the winning rally with a single in the nightcap.

Home Park Is Happy One for the Giants

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Windy, foggy and chilly it may be, but Candlestick Park remains a happy haven for the San Francisco Giants.

Battered on a recent trip, losing nine of 13 and falling to fifth place in the National League, 10 games off the pace, the Giants have zoomed back into the pennant scramble since returning to Candlestick. The streak has boosted them to a tie for second with St. Louis, 4½ games back of the faltering Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Giants made it six in a row at home and seven straight overall Sunday, riding a two-run homer by Willie Mays to a 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers found things less friendly at their palatial digs at Chavez Ravine. They were done in again by Philadelphia, 7-4, with homers by Clay Dalrymple and Johnny Callison the damaging blows.

The Dodgers have lost four straight on their current home stand, which opened promisingly with a pair of victories.

The Chicago Cubs cooled off St. Louis 5-1 and 12-11 and inched into fourth place ahead of Cincinnati Reds, which split with Milwaukee. The Reds won the opener 4-3; the Braves posted a 5-2 decision in the second game.

In a night game at Houston, rookie John Bateman's slugging paced the Colts to an 8-2 romp over the New York Mets — who have matched the all-time major league mark of 22 straight losses on the road, set by Pittsburgh in 1890.

Mays, who had hit into one of three double plays executed by the Pirates, got the brushback pitch from Don Schwall twice in the sixth inning before his 23rd homer gave the Giants a 3-1 lead.

Jack Sanford, who had lost his last six since a winning decision on June 18, worked his way out of several jams and finished with an eight-hitter. The 24-game winner of last year now is 10-11.

The Phils blasted ahead of the Dodgers in the sixth on Dalrymple's three-run homer off Don Drysdale, then clinched it with three in the seventh. Tony Taylor, who collected eight hits in the three straight victories at Los Angeles, singled across what proved to be the decisive run and kayced Drysdale. Callison greeted Ron Perranoski with a two-run homer, becoming the first left-hander to homer against the southpaw reliever in his three big league seasons.

Performing before their largest home crowd in 11 years, 40,222, the Cubs came out of a week-long slump with 30 hits in the sweep over the Cards. In the second game, St. Louis rapped five homers and twice held sizable leads, but the Cubs poured across 10 runs in their last three at bats. Eleven pitchers were used, with Lindy McDaniel the winner and Ed Bauta the loser.

Lou Brock homered twice, tripled and had a sacrifice fly, knocking in five Cub runs. Jim Schaffer hit two homers in the doubleheader, also driving in five runs for the winners.

In the opener, lefty Dick Ellsworth boosted his record to 15-7 with a seven-hitter, striking out 10. Prior to the doubleheader, the Cubs had lost three straight and five of six, while the Cards had won three in a row and seven of eight.

Carl Warwick hit a two-run homer and Bateman a two-run double off southpaw Al Jackson in the first inning at Houston. Bateman later added a homer and single Ken Johnson, 6-14, held the Mets to six hits.

At Milwaukee, Gene Freese batted in three first-game runs with a homer and double and Maloney won his 16th against three losses, with relief help from Al Worthington and Dom Zanni. Hank Aaron belted his 29th homer in getting three of Milwaukee's five hits.

Denny Lemaster outduelled Bob Purkey in the second game, turning in a six-hitter, and Joe Torre sent in two Milwaukee runs with a pair of singles.
